

Lecture 2

Unit 1 Language and Identity--Introduction to Expository Writing

- About Exposition:

Expose: to discover, reveal and make something clear.

- Definition:

Writing that exposes facts, explaining something or some ideas by providing related information.

- Feature:

Objectivity

- Attentions:

- Consider the readers
- In a neutral way
- Choose the appropriate medium

- Parts:

- The introduction
 - relevant info
 - the topic(the thesis statement)
- The body
 - Topic sentence and specific evidence for each paragraph.
- The conclusion
 - objective summary or suggestions

- Differences among narrative, expository and argumentative

- narrative:

To tell a story. For recording some events. With emotional feelings.

- expository:

For explaining the items.

- argumentative:

For convincing others. With intensively emotional feelings.

- Reading:

- a strong focus
- relevant information provided in an efficient manner
- clear and accurate explanations